

Ka Makainana.

BUKE VI—Aho Hou

Honolulu, Oahu, Iulai 13, 1896.

HELU 2

Kua Mo.

Oh, Lydia, Heaven born child of the sun!
Liliuokalani, aloha, kua Mo!
True sovereign of the sun kissed isles of the sea.
Let it not be said that thy race is now new.
Him shall the intruders for their crimes atone?
For the vile indignities cast upon thee?
Oh, what, indeed, should the fit punishment be
For those who so boldly robbed thee of thy throne?
Even now with stones thy children are fed!
Aye, but it were better that they should be dead
Than pledged allegiance to the foreign born land,
Or take sustenance from their accursed hand.
Alas, means thou dost not to be said
That thy people deserteth their native land.

CLARENCE E. EDWARDS.

Imi na Mehohe o Kupuna.
